

German Zeolite Association – Solidarity Grants for the attendance of Ukrainian students at IZC 2022 in Valencia (Spain) on July 3rd - 8th, 2022

The German Zeolite Association, as a part of The Federation of European Zeolite Associations (FEZA) together with other 16 National Zeolite Associations, has taken the decision to support Ukraine and all people suffering from the horrible war.

As a concrete action, FEZA decided to promote activities of the scientific community in support of Ukraine also including solidarity scholarship to Ukrainian early career researchers to attend a conference in the field of porous materials.

In accordance with this FEZA commitment, the German Zeolite Association will offer two solidarity grants for the attendance of Ukrainian PhD students and young researchers at IZC 2022 in Valencia (Spain) on July 3-8 (<https://izc2022.com>)

The grant will be endowed with 500,00 € to cover the registration fee for the conference and a part of the costs for travel and/or accommodation.

The application form must be sent by May 27th, 2022 to nadja.moeller@dechema.de along with:

- Certificate attesting the status of student or young researcher
- Motivation letter

The Board of the German Zeolite Association will select the awardees on the basis of their academic curriculum vitae and their motivation letter. Priority will be given to students living in Ukraine or refugees. In the case of equality, the grant will be given to the younger PhD student/researcher. For further information, please contact nadja.moeller@dechema.de.

Your colleagues and friends are looking forward to meeting you in Valencia!

Best regards,

The Board of the German Zeolite Association
